EUROPEAN CONGRESS OF PSYCHOLOGY, IN BELGRADE, SEPTEMBER 2027.,

INVITES YOU TO PARTICIPATE

Dear Colleagues,

We are writing to you on behalf of the Organizing Committee of the 20th European Congress of Psychology (ECP 2027), which will be held in Belgrade, Serbia, from 7 to 10 September 2027, organized by the Psychological Society of Serbia, with the support of the European Federation of Psychologists' Associations (EFPA).

It is a great honour and privilege for Serbia to host the milestone 20th European Congress of Psychology. This major event will be held in Serbia and, for the first time, in the region, making Belgrade the meeting point for leading European and international experts in psychology and related fields.

We expect the participation of more than 2,000 psychologists, researchers, professionals, academics and students from across Europe and beyond. The Congress will address contemporary developments in psychological science and practice, as well as topics of wider relevance to society, providing an opportunity for knowledge exchange, presentation of research and the development of new academic and professional collaborations.

The Call for Abstracts is now open, and the key dates are:

Abstract Submission
Call for Abstracts opens: 1 September 2026

Decision Notification: 15 April 2027

Registration

Registration opens: October 2026

Early Registration Deadline: 1 May 2027

We would be delighted to welcome your academics, researchers and students to Belgrade, and invite them to contribute to the Congress through their research, expertise and professional experience, as we celebrate this special edition of the European Congress of Psychology together. We believe that their participation and contribution will be of great value to the success of the Congress and to strengthening connections within the European academic community.

We would also greatly appreciate it if you could share information about the Congress and participation opportunities with members of your academic community for whom attending the Congress may be of professional and academic value.

For further information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

We look forward to your participation and to the opportunity to welcome you as our guests in Belgrade in September 2027.

Kind regards,

Organizing and Programme Committees of ECP 2027
